

OVINGTON'S

Black glass in itself is striking, and in a Table Decoration the effect is particularly charming. The one illustrated here consists of a flower bowl 10 1/2 inches in diameter, a flower block, 4 candle-sticks 7 inches high, two china birds and four candles, and the price, complete, is but $5.00.

A fashionable way to serve candies is in the new Glass Candy Jar, attractively decorated with light blue, black, or yellow enameled band and pink roses. On the pound size the price is $7.50; to hold three pounds, $10.00.

DISTINCTIVE articles in glassware, whether for the table or the boudoir, are found in abundance at Ovington's. Those shown here are but three specimens out of a great variety—and glassware is only one of the lines for which Ovington's is noted.

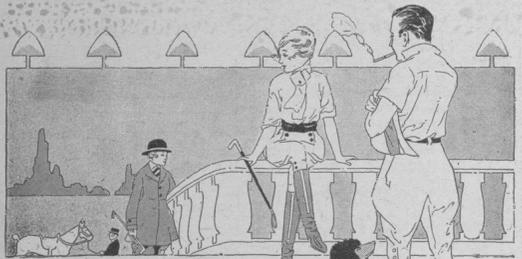

With Easter flower displays in mind, we have put particularly attractive prices on other Table Decorations ($2 and $3.50 for complete sets, including bowls, birds, butterflies and flower holders).

A Summer Home For You

FAR from the dust and heat of the city you can have a camp like this near some mountain lake.

It is a single wall, Bossert constructed house, and can be put up quickly by unskilled labor. Makes a very comfortable Summer home; can be unassembled and put up again any number of times. Not painted, but stained a beautiful brown color with creosote, which preserves the wood and brings out beautifully the natural grain. Contains three bedrooms, a 12x15 living room, and a 6x9 kitchen in extension. Economies effected by Bossert methods enable us to offer this camp at
