SLEEPING CAR A COLLEGE DORMITORY—Students of Blackburn College, Carlinville, Ill., are using discarded railroad sleeping cars for dormitories during the spring and winter months. Two cars have been placed on the campus. One coach has been occupied by boy and the other by girl students. Each coach has forty upper and lower berths, two drawing rooms and wash-rooms.

PART OF THE GIRLS' SLEEPING CAR DORMITORY—Observation room in the sleeping car which the girl students of Blackburn College, Carlinville, Ill., have turned into a dormitory. A brick foundation has been put under the car and sewage, electric light and hot water heating connections have been made. The cars were utilized to relieve congestion in the existing dormitory buildings.
