

THE "STARS AND STRIPES" RISING SIDE BY SIDE WITH THE FRENCH TRICOLOR IN THE AMERICAN CAMP BEHIND THE FRENCH FRONT ON THE AISNE.

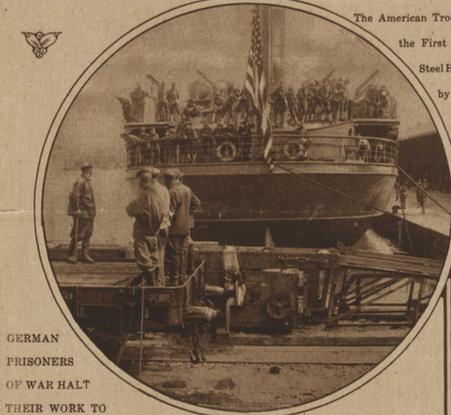

AMERICAN TROOPS MARCHING OUT OF THEIR CAMPS ON THE AISNE, ACCOMPANIED BY FRENCH OFFICERS, THE MEN WEARING STEEL HELMETS.

This and Accompanying Photographs of the Movements of American Troops on French Soil are Official, Having Been Taken for the War Department Archives of France. (Pictorial Press.)

GENERAL PERSHING SPEAKING ON THE FOURTH OF JULY AT THE GRAVE OF LAFAYETTE, WITH MARSHAL JOFFRE AND THE MILITARY GOVERNOR OF PARIS IN THE AUDIENCE IMMEDIATELY IN FRONT OF HIM. French Soldiers in a War Hospital Adjoining the Cemetery Can Be Seen on the Wall Listening to the Address. (© Underwood & Underwood.)

First
Photographs of the American Army in France

GERMAN PRISONERS OF WAR HALT THEIR WORK TO WATCH THE ARRIVAL OF AMERICAN TROOPS IN A FRENCH PORT.

The American Troops Are Shown for the First Time Wearing the Steel Helmets Now Donned by All Troops in Service Near the Fighting Line. (Pictorial Press.)

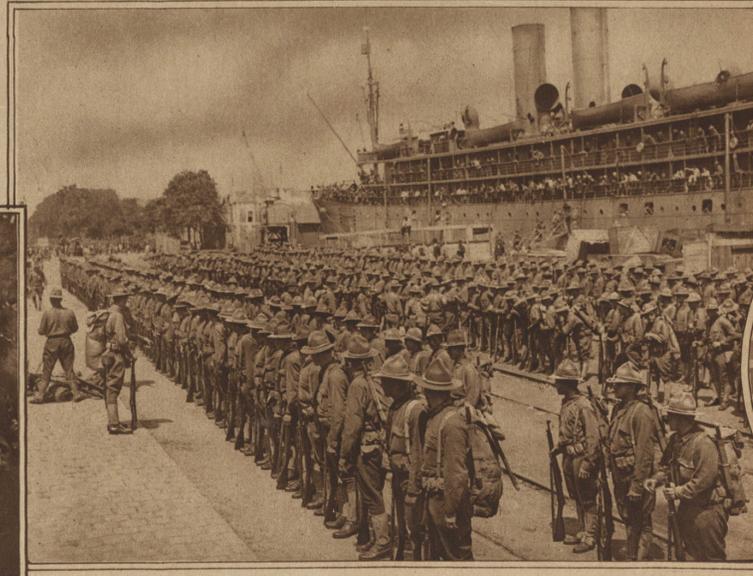

AN AMERICAN SHIP UNDER THE CONVOY OF UNITED STATES DESTROYERS, WHICH ARE SHOWN MANOEUVRING AFTER HAVING FIRED ON AN ATTACKING SUBMARINE. From a New and Remarkable Photograph Approved by the Government for Publication, but About Which Little Can Be Stated. (© Underwood & Underwood.)

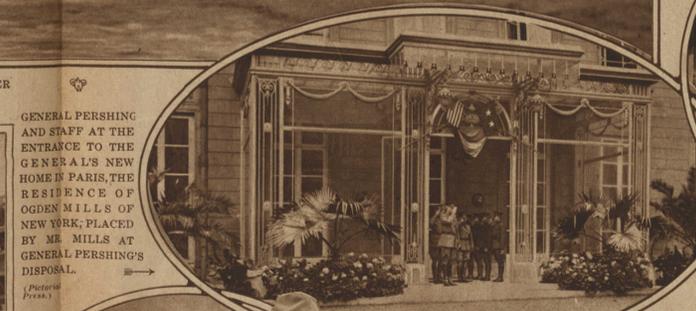

CITIZENS OF A FRENCH PORT, WITH A SPRINKLING OF FRENCH SOLDIERS, GET THEIR FIRST VIEW OF AMERICAN TROOPS. (© International Film Service.)

AMERICAN SOLDIERS, IN PARIS FOR THE FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION, COVERED WITH FLOWERS, RAINED DOWN UPON THEM FROM BALCONIES. (© International Film Service.)

AMERICAN INFANTRY, JUST ARRIVED IN A FRENCH PORT, FORMING ON ONE OF THE DOCKS PREPARATORY TO MARCHING AWAY TO THE CAMPS ERECTED FOR THEM BEYOND THE CITY. (Pictorial Press.)

GENERAL PERSHING AND STAFF AT THE ENTRANCE TO THE GENERAL'S NEW HOME IN PARIS, THE RESIDENCE OF OGDEN MILLS OF NEW YORK, PLACED BY MR. MILLS AT GENERAL PERSHING'S DISPOSAL. (Pictorial Press.)

AMERICAN TROOPS OF THE FIRST CONTINGENT TO REACH FRANCE SWINGING DOWN THE RUE DE RIVOLI IN THE GREAT CELEBRATION IN PARIS OF THE FOURTH OF JULY. (Pictorial Press.)

GENERAL NIOX, IN THE PRESENCE OF PRESIDENT POINCARÉ, MARSHAL JOFFRE, GENERAL PERSHING, AND OF THE LEADING CIVIL AND MILITARY OFFICIALS OF PARIS, GATHERED BEFORE THE INVALIDES, NAPOLEON'S TOMB, RECEIVING THE "STARS AND STRIPES," BORNE BY THE AMERICAN CONTINGENT OF THE FOREIGN LEGION AFTER THE UNITED STATES ENTERED THE WAR, FOR PERMANENT PRESERVATION IN THE INVALIDES CHAPEL. (Pictorial Press.)

FRENCH RED CROSS NURSES DISTRIBUTING SANDWICHES AMONG AMERICAN SOLDIERS ON THEIR ARRIVAL IN PARIS FOR THE INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION. (© International Film Service.)