

FRANCE RUSHES TROOPS TO ITALY'S AID.
French Cavalrymen, Fresh from the West Front, Passing Through the City of Verona to Support the Italian Defenses Along the Piave. This is One of the First Photographs to Reach This Country Showing the Presence in Italy of Large Bodies of French Forces Sent to Help in Checking the Teutonic Advance.
(French Official Pictorial Service.)

BRITISH CAVALRY, DURING THE GREAT CAMBRAI OFFENSIVE, PASSING OVER A BRIDGED TRENCH INTO WHICH INFANTRY ARE PASSING
(© Underwood & Underwood.)

Girl Motor Driver of the American Fund for French Wounded Delivering Provisions to One of the Aisne Families Returned to Their Ruined Homes After Three Years of Exile Through German Occupation.

MISS ANNE MORGAN AND MRS. A. M. DIKE, Officers of the American Fund for French Wounded, at Blerencourt, Aisne, Where They Have Undertaken the Rebuilding of Twenty-seven Villages in the Reoccupied Territory Devastated by the Germans.
(Photos by Harry B. Luchman, American Artist.)

PARIS GIRLS, DARING UNBECOMING SMUDGES, PLYING THEIR NEW VOCATION AS CHIMNEY SWEEPS IN THE SHADOW OF THE EIFFEL TOWER.
(© Underwood & Underwood.)

MRS. ALEXANDER THOMPSON, Member of the Oregon State Legislature, Taking a Trip Over the World's Longest and Highest Aerial Tramway to Baker Mines to Advocate War Thrift Savings Among the Miners. This Tramway Is 7,000 Feet Above Sea Level and Is Over a Mile Long.
(Photos Underwood & Underwood.)

KING ALBERT I. OF THE BELGIANS
AT HIS DESK AT THE BELGIAN ARMY HEADQUARTERS. From a New Photograph Just Received in This Country.
(© Underwood & Underwood.)

HENRIETTE, Duchess of Vendome, Princess of Belgium, and Sister of King Albert I. of the Belgians. From an Autographed Photograph Sent by Her to the Rocky Mountain Club of New York in Appreciation of the Club's Efforts and Contributions to Relieve Her War-Stricken Compatriots.