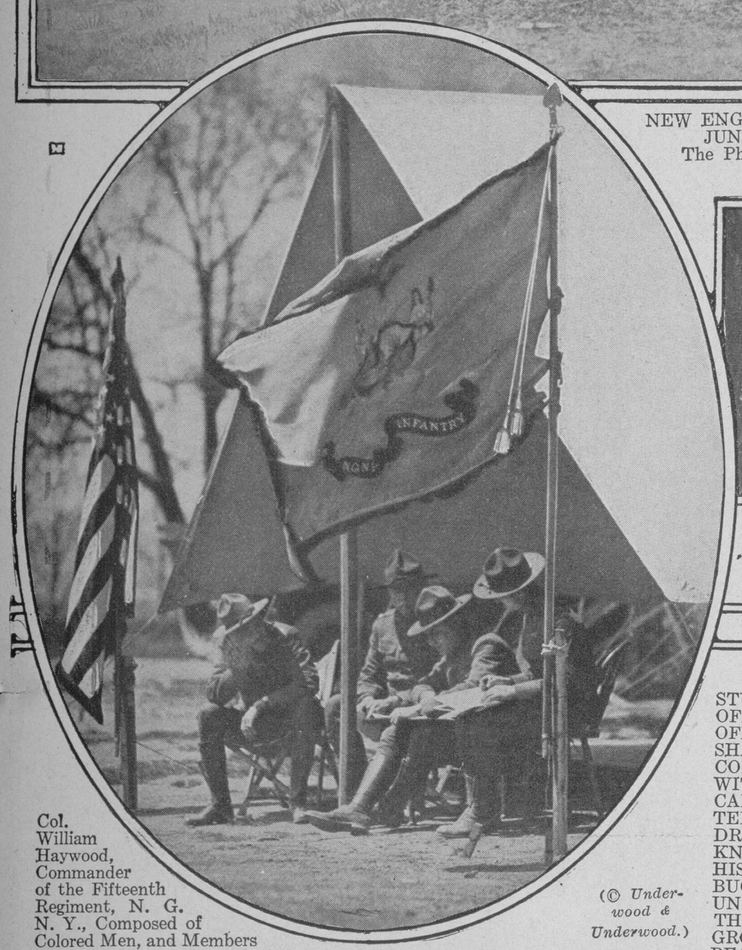
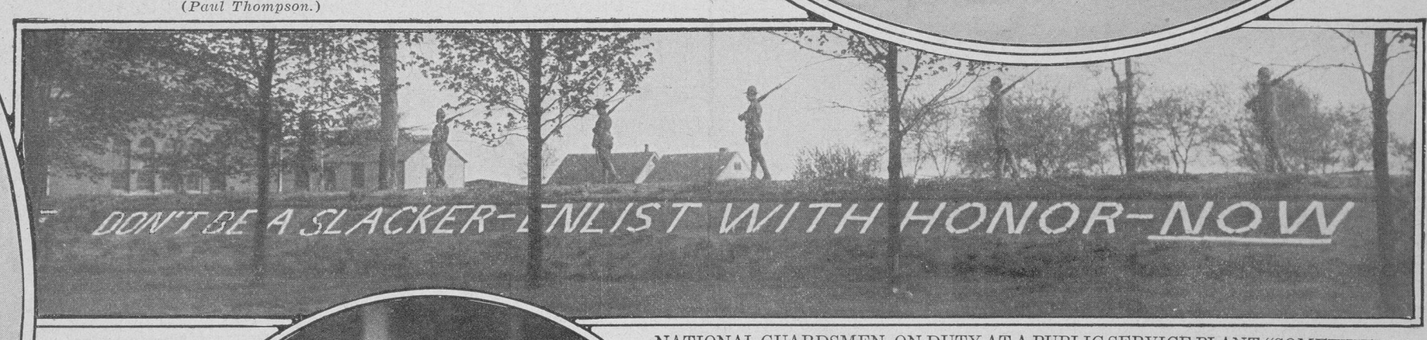
NEW ENGLANDERS AT PLATTSBURG HEED GEN. BELL'S INJUNCTION TO LEARN TO "SING AS THEY FIGHT."
The Photograph Shows the Second New England Company's Own Glee Club and String Band.
(Paul Thompson.)

"BILLY" MEANIX, HARVARD ATHLETE, WITH THE NEW ENGLAND CONTINGENT AT PLATTSBURG, TAKING A HURDLE, RIFLE IN HAND.
(Paul Thompson.)



Col. William Haywood, Commander of the Fifteenth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., Composed of Colored Men, and Members of His Staff in Front of Their Tent at Peekskill, N. Y., Where the Regiment Has Been in Training Two Weeks, Hoping Thereby to Win Recognition and Acceptance by the Federal Government

(© Underwood & Underwood.)



(© American Press Association.)

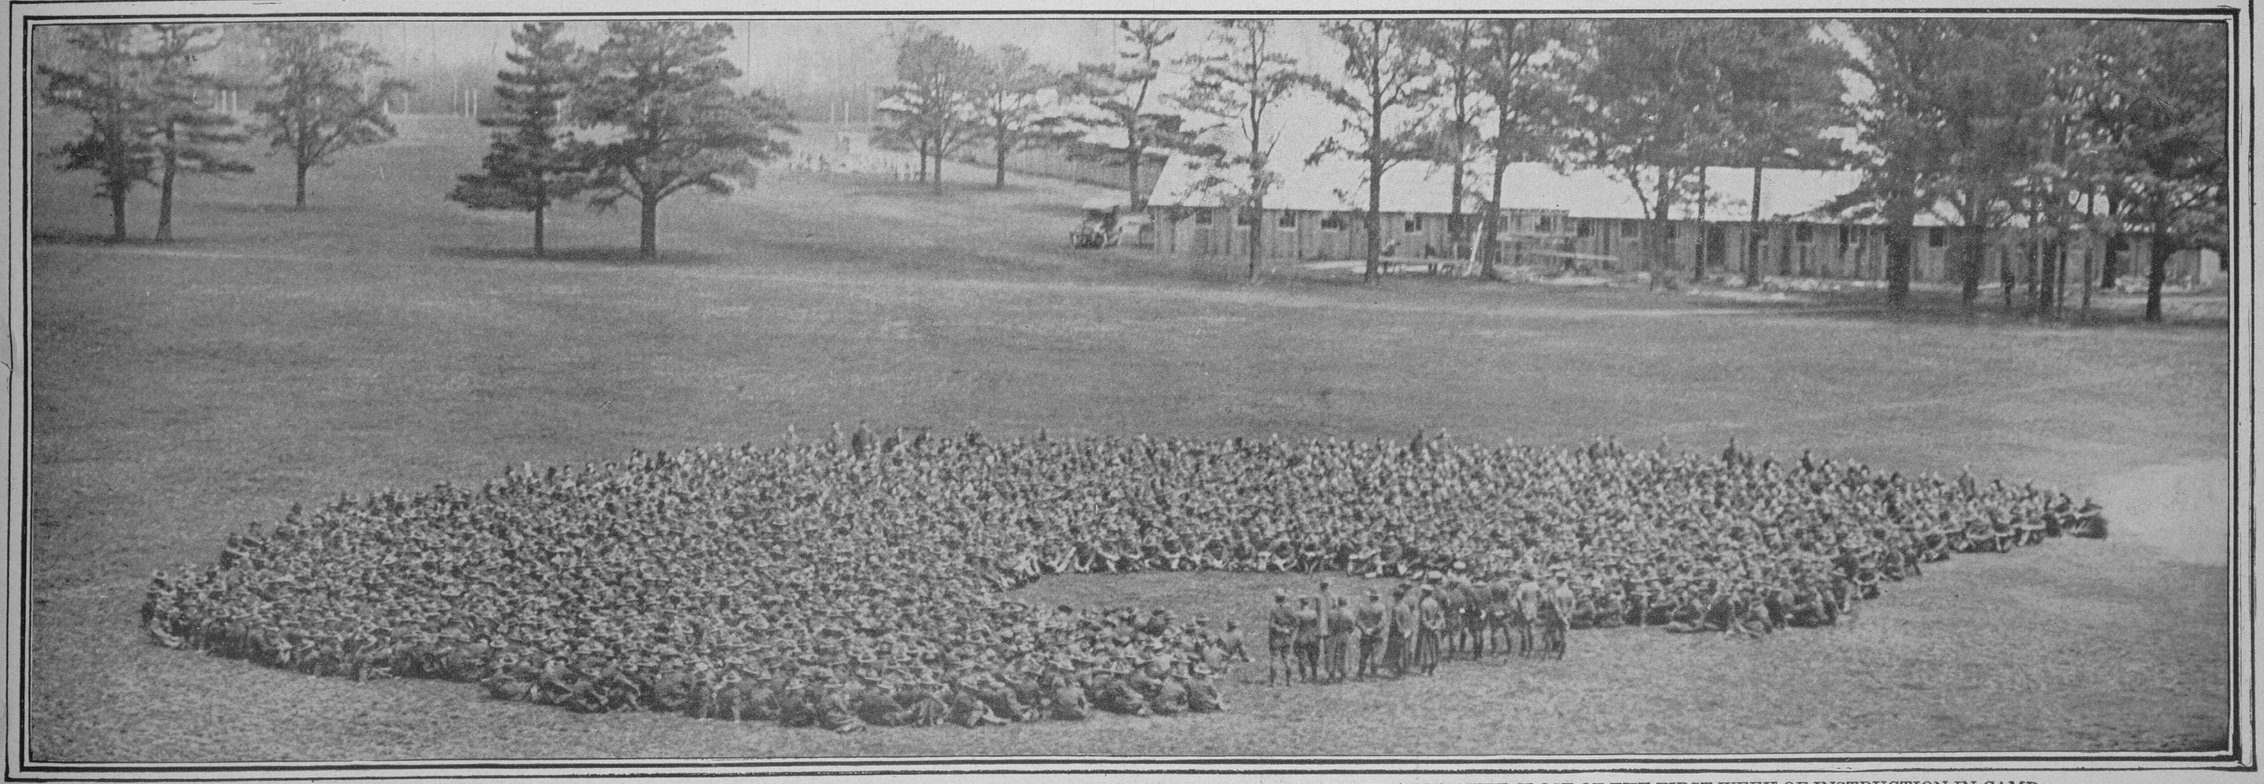
NATIONAL GUARDSMEN, ON DUTY AT A PUBLIC SERVICE PLANT "SOMEWHERE" IN NEW YORK STATE, TRANSFORM THE GROUNDS OF THEIR QUARTERS INTO A RECRUITING POSTER.

STUDENT OFFICER OFFERS TO SHAVE A COMRADE WITH A CARPENTER'S DRAWING KNIFE WHEN HIS RAZOR BUCKLED UNDER A THREE DAYS' GROWTH OF BEARD.
(Paul Thompson.)

(International Film Service.)

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN AT LOS ANGELES TEACHING YOUNG WOMEN IN PANTALETTES THE SECRET OF WRESTING THE LARGEST BOUNTIES FROM THE SOIL.

THE TWELFTH NEW ENGLAND COMPANY AT PLATTSBURG AS SEEN FROM THE VERANDA OF ONE OF THE OLD BARRACKS.
(Times Photo Service.)



THE ENTIRE NEW YORK CONTINGENT, 2,500 STRONG, ATTENDING AN OPEN-AIR LECTURE ON THE BANKS OF CHAMPLAIN AT THE CLOSE OF THE FIRST WEEK OF INSTRUCTION IN CAMP.
(Times Photo Service.)