A hospital section of the French army on skiis in the Vosges transporting the wounded by sled.

Scenes Near The Verdun Fighting Line Where the German Host Still Presses.

Refugees from the Verdun region arriving at a village in the rear of the fighting line.

The interior of a church in Bethincourt, in the Meuse district, shattered by bombardment.

The dog sentinel watches for the foe with his human comrade.