

Adam Stephen to George Washington, July 27, 1758,
Letters to Washington and Accompanying Papers.
Published by the Society of the Colonial Dames of America. Edited by Stanislaus Murray Hamilton.

FROM COLONEL ADAM STEPHEN.

CAMP NEAR RAES-TOWN July 27th. 1758

SIR,

There is nothing new here—By last accounts the General was indispos'd & had not left Carlisle, on Sunday.

By all reports, there has been a great miscarriage at an Enemy's post calld the Saw-Mill within two miles of Ticonderogo—We have have no distinct account of the Affair, nor is it known here, who Commanded the Attack; It is imagind that the Advanced Party, or rather First Division, made too great hast forward; befor the Body of the Army were at hand to Support them.

I expect you soon will have the Regiment together, but as you will have an interview with Col. Bouquet in a few days I shall refer saying any thing of it —

The purport of your meeting is to Consult measures for expediting matters, & the Roads will be the Chief Subject, I give you this hint, that may you have in readiness, what is to be said on that head, and am with respect

Library of Congress

Sir Your most Obt. huble. Servt. ADAM STEPHEN