

NINETY-SEVENTH AMERICAN BATTALION, CANADIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, COMPOSED ALTOGETHER OF NATIVE OR NATURALIZED CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES, ASSEMBLED IN QUEENS PARK, TORONTO, FOR A FINAL REVIEW BY GENERAL SAM HUGHES, WAR MINISTER, BEFORE THEY SAIL FOR EUROPE. Lieut. Col. Jolly, Commanding Officer of the "American Legion," is at the Head of His Men.

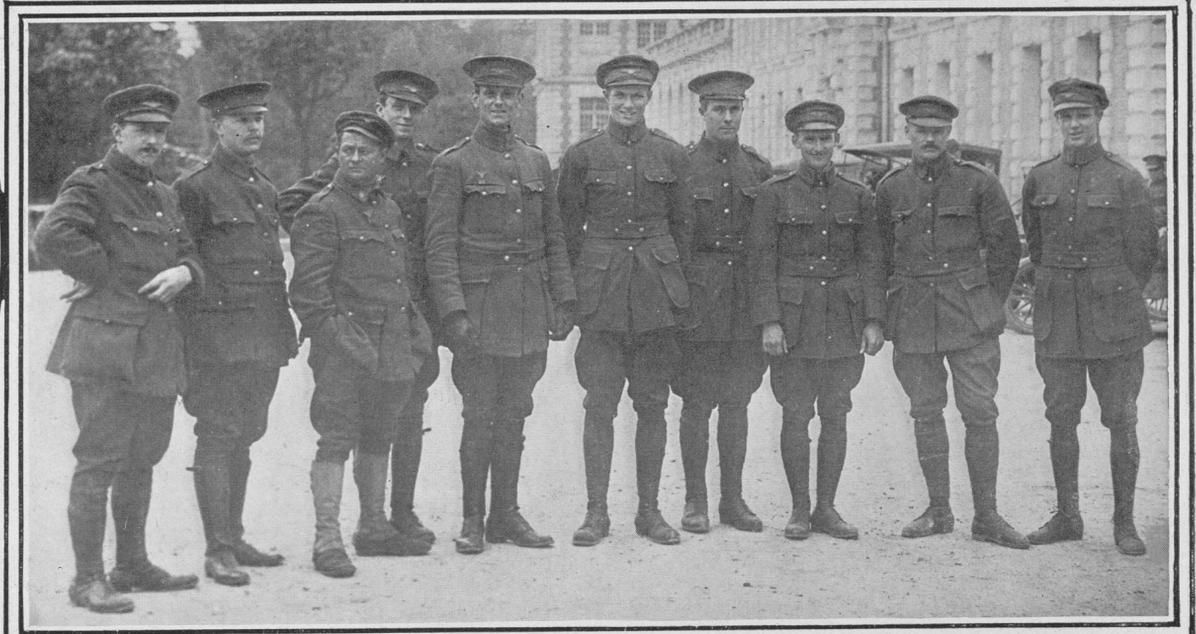

AUSTRALIAN TROOPS AMONG THE LATEST OF THE ALLIES' FORCES TO ARRIVE IN MARSEILLES. Every Soldier Has Been Presented with a Bouquet by the Women and Children of the City.

(Photos © by Medem Photo Service.)

MME. POINCARÉ, WIFE OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE FRENCH REPUBLIC, SPEAKING WITH A WOUNDED SOLDIER IN THE AMERICAN HOSPITAL IN PARIS.

GROUP OF AMERICAN AMBULANCE DRIVERS IN THE SERVICE ON THE FRENCH FRONT. They Are, Left to Right: Messrs. Pleasant and Doughty, Both of Texas; William O'Connor, the Former Brooklyn Jockey; Maris, New Orleans; Rogers, Michigan; Buffers, New York City; Thomas, Washington, D. C.; Mason, Boston; Keogh, New Rochelle, N. Y.; and Ewelle, Maine.