

FRENCH VANGUARD TANK ADVANCING THROUGH A FOREST ON THE MARNE AGAINST GERMAN POSITIONS.
(Photos French Pictorial Service.)

BRIG. GEN. H. E. ELY
From a French Official Photograph Taken
Near Cantigny, in Which Fight
He, Then a Colonel, Led
His Regiment.

MAJOR
GENERAL
ROBERT
LEE BULLARD,
Who Led the Victorious Americans at Cantigny, and Who Has Since Been Appointed Commander of the Second
American Army Corps.

AMERICAN
RESERVES HELD
AT THE MARNE
TO AWAIT THE COMMAND TO BEGIN THE COUNTER-OFFENSIVE WHICH DROVE THE GERMANS
BEYOND THE VESLE.

AMERICAN SOLDIER LOOK-ING OVER AN ODD ASSORTMENT OF
GERMAN BOOTY
CAPTURED BY THE AMERI-CANS IN THE MARNE
FIGHTING.

FRENCH ARTILLERYMEN MAKING ALL SPEED IN CHANGING THE POSITION OF THEIR HEAVY FIELDPIECE TO KEEP UP WITH THE RAPID ADVANCE OF THE FRANCO-AMERICAN TROOPS.

FRENCH BRINGING IN THEIR FIRST GERMAN PRISONERS IN THE SECOND GREAT BATTLE ON THE MARNE.

FRENCH REFUGEES, IN FLIGHT IN THE FIRST DAYS OF THE MARNE BATTLE BEFORE THE TIDE TURNED, PASSING A HUGE FRENCH CANNON ON THE ROADSIDE.