

The British nurse follows the Cross of St. George. One of the Salonika expedition nurses and her living-quarters. International News Service.

This photograph of the last Zeppelin raid on London was taken by a British nurse as the war bird was sailing over Woolwich near the Arsenal. ©H. Scott Orr, Woodford, England.

Design of the monument of granite and bronze to be erected by Americans in memory of Edith Cavell, England's martyr nurse, in the Trocadero Gardens, Paris. Underwood & Underwood.

The Way of a Woman in War
To Defy Death for the Sake of Her Cause and Minister Unto the Wounded.

"Packing guns" in the East. An Austrian mountain battery on the trail. Feature Photo Service.

Two Austrian women who fight as soldiers. One has been decorated for bravery. One was a teacher, the other a student. Underwood & Underwood.

A view of Kut-el-Amara in Mesopotamia where General Townsend's army of Britons is besieged by Turks. ©Underwood & Underwood.