

Division of the Army, with in the reviewing stand on Memorial Day parade.

Photo © Social Press Association

The Red Cross vessel Surf sails for an unannounced port. Aboard as she passed down the harbor were, left to right, Lamar Washington, Elsie Macdonald, J. B. Laughlin, S. J. Sweeney, Dr. John A. Harriss (in charge), Howard B. Day and Miss Virginia Vient.

Photo © International Film Service

The U. S. S. Recruit, in Union Square Harbor, New York. The only land battleship ever launched, now used for naval recruiting. The view to the right shows the crowd that attended the "launching" ceremonies and the christening by Mrs. Mitchel, wife of the Mayor.

Photo © Underwood & Underwood

Junior Naval Reserve drawn up at the local parade. The Southern delegation had just returned from them to the summer encampment in London, Conn.

Photo Fotocraft, Inc.

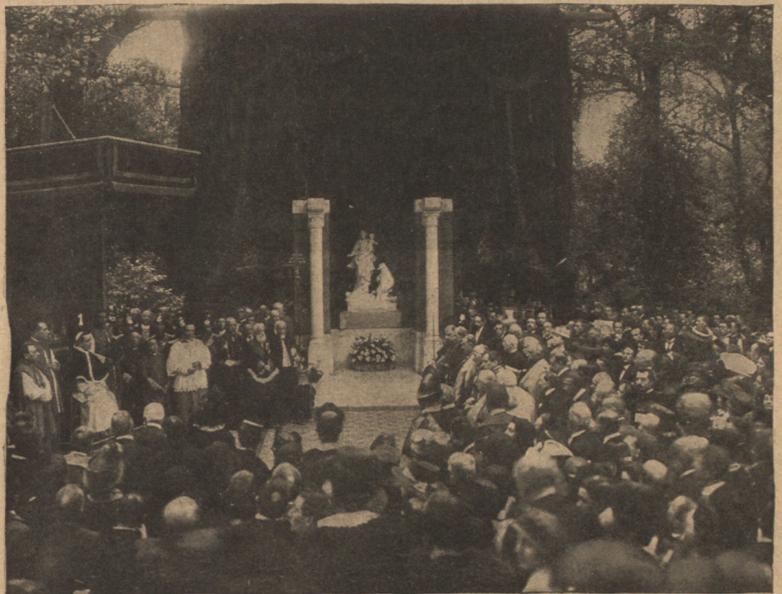

Barber when she has an open razor in hand is shaving them daily at one of the most popular spots in the city.

Photo International Film Service

The 13th New York company at Plattsburg registering for the coming draft.

Photo Press Illustrating Service

Pope Benedict XV (1) and the pontifical court accept the statue of St. Mary della Guardia, in the gardens of the Vatican. The statue was presented to the pontiff by the Catholics of Genoa.

Photo Underwood & Underwood

Above, the N. Y. A. C. unit on review before the games at Travers Island. It is rumored that this troop, composed of some of the most prominent athletes of the East, will soon see service in France.

Photo Underwood & Underwood