

The submarine's greatest foe is the destroyer. Our destroyer flotilla in charge of Vice Admiral Sims is doing such gallant work in the war zone that the government has decided to abandon the plan for a fleet of a thousand submarine chasers and concentrate on speeding up destroyer construction. These two striking photographs show United States destroyers throwing out the smoke screen that has proved such effective protection against the German U-boat.

Photos copyright, E. Muller, Jr., N. Y.

