

Tribune Graphic

Most Beautiful of All Snow Mountains

Seen as yet by a mere handful of explorers, this great peak, Siniolchum, in the Himalayas, is probably the most beautiful snow mountain in the world. Its apparently unscalable precipices glisten with the eternal snows, while its fluted avalanche tracks give solemn warning to any mountaineer who may long to conquer its summit, towering 22,570 feet heavenward.

Telephoto by V. Sella.

