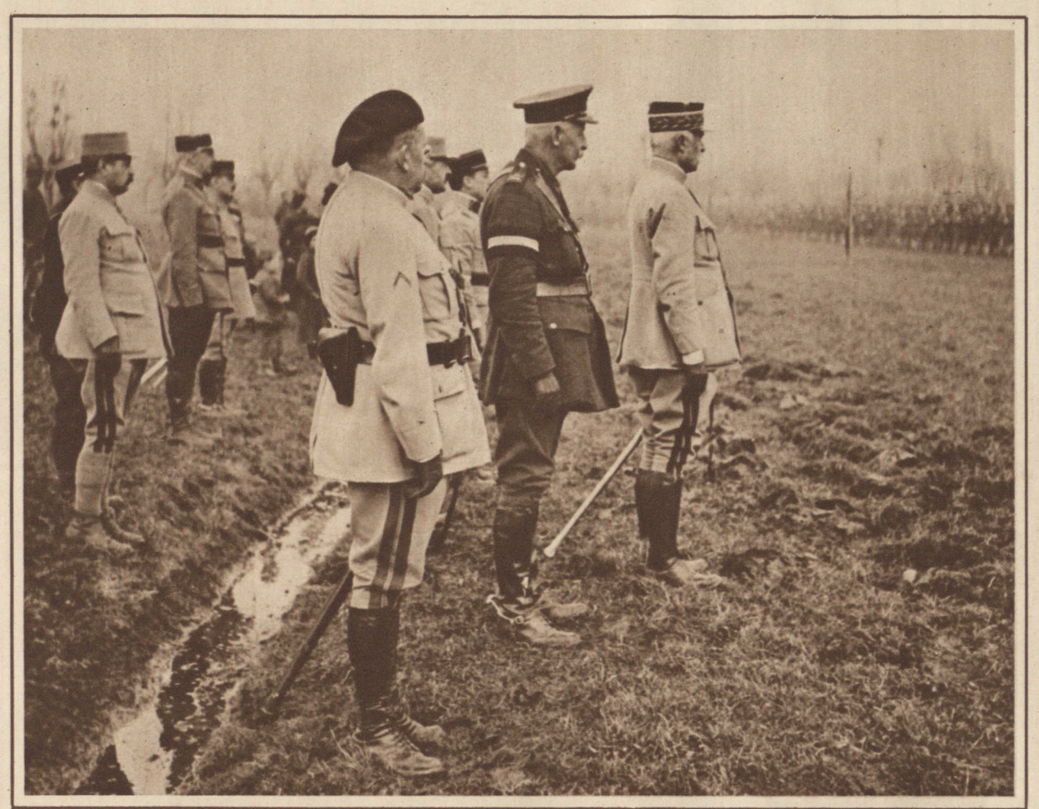
FRENCH CHASSEURS IN ITALY

Photographs (©) French Pictorial Service.

The battalion of French Chasseurs who captured Monte Tomba and saved the Italian army from probable further defeat.



General Fayolle, General Maistre and General Herring (British) assist in reviewing the battalion of chasseurs who took Monte Tomba from the Austrians and forced them to retreat.

Commanders of the French battalion of Chasseurs who led the attack which resulted in the capture of Monte Tomba.

Lined up for the review. Some of the sturdies of the battalion.

General Fayolle decorates the standard of the battalion with the Cross of War.