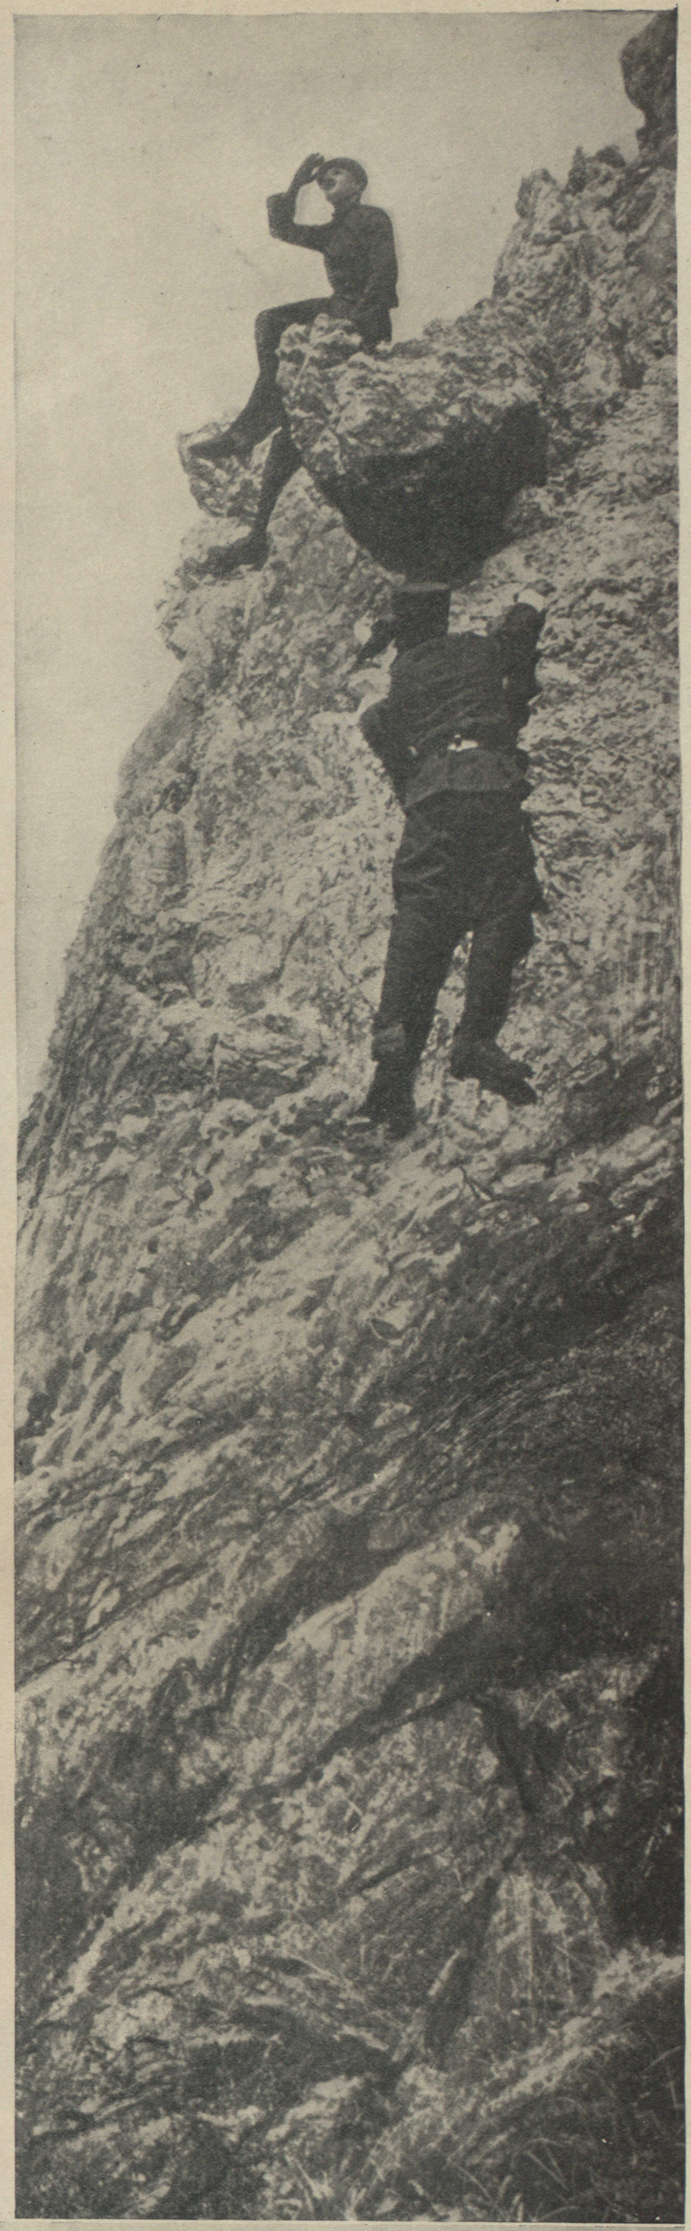
A secret Austrian gun cave, dominating the Carso Plateau, captured by the Italians. It was built and covered with cement before the war.

Photo from Paul Thompson.

An improvised Italian church built on territory occupied in the Austrian Trentino.

Photo from Paul Thompson.



Warfare in the Trentino. Italian soldiers must climb crevasses to reach the foe.

Photo from Paul Thompson.

An Italian artillery observation officer perched on a Tyrolean mountain crag.

Photo from Paul Thompson.

Italian artillerymen hauling a heavy gun into position in the Trentino.

Photo from Paul Thompson.