GRAPHIC SECTION.
PART VI.

New York Tribune

SUNDAY
MARCH 19, 1916

A French First Aid Station in the trenches along the Moselle.

A French trench erected on the edge of a pond in the Moselle district.

French ammunition trucks stuck in the mud while hurrying to the Champagne battle front.

On the watch in a trench in the battle zone.

In Camp and Field with the French in Champagne.

Exclusive photographs, taken by official photographers of the French army and published by special arrangement with the Minister of War.