

A. Roy Camp, Assistant General Manager of the Chalmers Motor Company of New York, never tires of planting seeds.

Professor Albert Ball, head of Physics Department, and W. J. Pickett, of Cooper Union Institute, are interested in lay problems.

Forty-five Minutes from Broadway—the New York Business Man on His Day Off at Malverne, L. I.

Gresley Photo Service

Dr. A. J. Barker Savage, Superintendent of Broad Street Hospital, New York City, uses the whole family when he treats a window.

While Bert Wheeler is amusing Keith Circuit audiences, Mrs. Wheeler gives the auto a tired feeling.

Ernest Child, Sales Manager of Eimer & Amend, chemical importers and manufacturers of scientific instruments, cuts grass instead of ice.

Frank C. Druding, cashier of the American Smelting and Refining Company, makes a smashing record in the gutter rock game.

Carl Bier, Sr., decorator of the New York State Building at the Panama Fair, coached by Mrs. Bier, decorates his lawn.

The working members of the Malverne Tennis Club: left to right—W. J. Pickett, Alfred H. Wagg, Ernest Child, Prof. Albert Ball, Munroe Voorhees, Arthur P. Lenton.