

THE DEADLIEST FRENCH WEAPON OF THE WAR. This 380 mm. mortar is planted behind the last line of French trenches near Fleury. Its projectile is hurled over the hill, clearing all of the French lines, and dropped in the German defences, miles away.

© American Press—Meyers