While a picture of the Kaiser looks down from the wall, Berlin school girls knit Christmas gifts for fathers and brothers in the trenches.

© Brown & Dawson.

London children gather Christmas foodstuffs, which are taken to a central station and forwarded to soldiers' hospitals. Central News Photo Service.

A great land across the sea, weary of toil and of tears, turns for a moment from the work of war to remember the birthday of the Prince of Peace

To a wounded soldier a box of candy spells ten times the happiness the giver finds in the giving. At Percy Hospital, Islesworth.

Underwood & Underwood.

German soldiers must have their Christmas trees, even in tight places These are members of the Landsturm behind the lines.

Underwood & Underwood.

Plum pudding and wine in the van of a French hospital parade.

© American Press Association

The buoyant spirits of the French soldier find happiness in this form of merrymaking. Characters in a Christmas play at the front.

© American Press Association.

Santa Claus leaves remembrances at a German outpost in France.

Brown & Dawson, from U. & U.